

DJ Knight aids homeless

DJ Knight and Company, a residential real estate brokerage and relocation firm, has teamed up with Bailey House to help homeless New Yorkers living with HIV/AIDS.

Under the "Home Start Referral Program," when an individual buys, sells or rents a home in Manhattan through DJ Knight and mentions that they were referred by Bailey House, 20% of DJ Knight's commission will be donated to the organization.

Bailey House is New York's leading provider of housing and supportive services for people with HIV/AIDS.

"Thanks to DJ Knight, people can not only find a home for themselves, but also help open a door for someone less fortunate," said Gina Quattrochi, executive director of Bailey House. "We are truly excited about the impact this program will have on our clients."

David Knight, DJ Knight president, is delighted to be partnering with Bailey House on this important program. "It's a great match between one of New York's leading experts in housing and the organization that has been housing people with AIDS and their families for over 17 years. By donating 20% of our commission on sales and rentals in Manhattan, we're building a solid foundation of contributions to Bailey House with great benefit to the community."
